

George Müller at 90

George Müller and the Scriptures

John 8:28-36

Our Lord spoke of the importance of being immersed in the Word of God in order to have answered prayer: “If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you” (John 15:7).

We all recognize George Müller as a man of prayer. The countless examples in his lifetime of highly improbable answers to his prayers are truly remarkable. Equally important is the fact that Müller was also a man of the Word. This had not always been the case. Earlier in life he had not formed the habit of reading the Bible daily and systematically, and instead read what other men said about the Bible.

At age 92, he told his biographer that for every page of any other reading, he was sure he read ten pages of the Bible. After a true relish for the Scriptures had been created, he could not understand how he could ever have treated God’s Book with such neglect. As he read and studied this Book of God, he felt himself becoming more and more intimately acquainted with the divine Author. During the last twenty years of his life, he read the Bible carefully through, four or five times annually, with a growing sense of his own rapid increase in the knowledge of God. He drank habitually at this fountain of living waters. Müller’s close walk with God began as he learned that such a walk is always in the light of that inspired Word which is Divinely declared to be to the obedient soul “a lamp unto the feet and a light unto the path” (Psalms 119:105).

“Blessed are they who have thus learned to use this key which gives free access, not only to the King’s Treasuries, but to the King Himself!” (A. T. Pierson)

~George Zeller: www.middletonbiblechurch.org

George Müller at 90

George Müller and the Scriptures

John 8:28-36

Our Lord spoke of the importance of being immersed in the Word of God in order to have answered prayer: “If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you” (John 15:7).

We all recognize George Müller as a man of prayer. The countless examples in his lifetime of highly improbable answers to his prayers are truly remarkable. Equally important is the fact that Müller was also a man of the Word. This had not always been the case. Earlier in life he had not formed the habit of reading the Bible daily and systematically, and instead read what other men said about the Bible.

At age 92, he told his biographer that for every page of any other reading, he was sure he read ten pages of the Bible. After a true relish for the Scriptures had been created, he could not understand how he could ever have treated God’s Book with such neglect. As he read and studied this Book of God, he felt himself becoming more and more intimately acquainted with the divine Author. During the last twenty years of his life, he read the Bible carefully through, four or five times annually, with a growing sense of his own rapid increase in the knowledge of God. He drank habitually at this fountain of living waters. Müller’s close walk with God began as he learned that such a walk is always in the light of that inspired Word which is Divinely declared to be to the obedient soul “a lamp unto the feet and a light unto the path” (Psalms 119:105).

“Blessed are they who have thus learned to use this key which gives free access, not only to the King’s Treasuries, but to the King Himself!” (A. T. Pierson)

~George Zeller: www.middletonbiblechurch.org